

- More than 90 percent of today's active duty personnel are 40 years old or younger, nearly half of them under 25 – a generation not alive during the Vietnam War, and with no personal knowledge of war. Many have fathers and grandfathers who are military veterans.
- Approximately 25 million Americans are military veterans; 1.7 million are women.
- More than 18 million veterans of American wars are living, including approximately:
  - Fewer than 50 World War I veterans
  - 3.5 million World War II veterans
  - 3.2 million Korean conflict veterans
  - 8.0 million Vietnam veterans
  - 2.4 million Persian Gulf War veterans, including current conflicts
  - An additional approximately 6 million peacetime (between wars) veterans.

As we commemorate this Veterans Day, it is fitting to reflect on the sacrifices made by our veterans and by their families. Whether we honor this service with grand parades or a simple Handshake accompanied by a quiet “thank you,” these heartfelt gestures let our fighting men and women know we have not forgotten those who answered the call to duty.

Wars have beginnings and endings, but our duty to care for those who fought them must never end.

CONCLUSION

Tony Collins, Director, Parks and Recreation, City of Gahanna

When Francis Scott Key wrote the “Star Spangled Banner” almost 200 years ago, he called America, “the land of the free and the home of the brave.” Those words are as true today as they were then. Throughout this Nation’s history, America’s soldiers, sailors, airmen, Marines and coastguardsmen have bravely answered the call to defend our freedom, to aid our friends and allies, and to turn back aggressors. We can never fully repay our debt of gratitude to the more than 650,000 American service members who died in battle or the 1.4 million who were wounded. We can, however, recognize and thank the 25 million veterans still living today. These words are inscribed on the Korean War Memorial in Washington, D.C.: “Our nation honors her sons and daughters who answered the call to defend a country they never knew and a people they never met.” Those words apply equally to many of our World War I, World War II, Vietnam War and Gulf War veterans as well. They apply to today’s active duty service members — tomorrow’s veterans — who are helping to maintain peace throughout the world. Today, it is our privilege to say “thank you” to all of America’s veterans, to let them know that we appreciate them for their service and honor them for their sacrifices. The price of freedom is high. We cannot afford to forget those willing to pay it. Today, we celebrate America’s veterans for keeping this Nation “the land of the free and the home of the brave.”
