

Memorial Day was officially proclaimed on May 5, 1868, by General John Logan, national commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, in his General Order No. 11, and was first observed on 30 May 1868, when flowers were placed on the graves of Union and Confederate soldiers at Arlington National Cemetery. The first state to officially recognize the holiday was New York in 1873. By 1890 it was recognized by all of the northern states. The South refused to acknowledge the day, honoring their dead on separate days until after World War I (when the holiday changed from honoring just those who died fighting in the Civil War to honoring Americans who died fighting in any war).

It is now celebrated in almost every State on the last Monday in May (passed by Congress with the National Holiday Act of 1971 to ensure a three day weekend for Federal holidays), though several southern states have an additional separate day for honoring the Confederate war dead: January 19 in Texas, April 26 in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, and Mississippi; May 10 in South Carolina; and June 3 (Jefferson Davis' birthday) in Louisiana and Tennessee.

TAPS

The 24-note bugle call known as “taps” is thought to be a revision of a French bugle signal, called “tattoo,” that notified soldiers in the evening to return to their barracks or garrisons. It was sounded one hour before the bugle call that brought the military day to an end by ordering the extinguishing of fires and lights. The last five measures of the tattoo resemble the modern day “Taps.”

The revision that gave us present-day taps was made during America’s Civil War by Union Gen. Daniel Adams Butterfield, heading a brigade camped at Harrison Landing, Va., near Richmond. Up to that time, the U.S. Army’s infantry call to end the day was the French final call, “L’Extinction des feux.” Gen. Butterfield decided the “lights out” music was too formal to signal the day’s end. One day in July 1862, he recalled the tattoo music and hummed a version of it to an aide, who wrote it down in music. Butterfield then asked the brigade bugler, Oliver W. Norton, to play the notes and, after listening, lengthened and shortened them while keeping his original melody.

He ordered Norton to play this new call at the end of each day thereafter, instead of the regulation call. The music was heard and appreciated by other brigades, who asked for copies and adopted this bugle call. It was even adopted by Confederate buglers. This music was made the official Army bugle call after the war, but not given the name “taps” until 1874.

Take One Minute to Remember

MAY 26, 2008— 3:00 P.M. LOCAL TIME

While families relish the Memorial Day weekend as a kickoff to summer -- a time for picnics, festivals and weekend getaways -- too many of us don't give any thought to the holiday's true intent: honoring the 1.2 million men and women in uniform throughout the history of our nation who have made the ultimate sacrifice for the freedoms we enjoy. In 2008, though, we can make this day special by heeding a request by the White House Commission on Remembrance to take a minute at 3 p.m. local time to remember them. It's the least we can do -- especially when young men and women continue to die halfway around the world.

One minute of your day is not too much to ask.

The Gahanna Veteran's Memorial Committee was formed in 1998 of residents with an interest in constructing a place to honor all veterans who have served, or are currently serving, in all branches of the U.S. military. Local architect, George Parker, designed the Memorial. In 2008 we celebrate the 10th anniversary of the formation of the Committee and the original Memorial ground-breaking.
